DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 8 is objected to because of the limitations of an “inertial unit” and a “rack”. Based on claim 1, it appears as though the assembly is intended to fix a component to a support. It is unclear, based on the limitations set forth in the claims, how an inertial unit and a rack relate to the invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

4. Claim 1 recites that the posterior part (3) of the peg (1) “is designed to compensate for the clearance”. It is unclear what structure allows for an object to “compensate” for a clearance associated with another object. It appears as though the anterior portion is inserted with clearance in the sleeve and the posterior portion is inserted without clearance in the sleeve. However, this is not clearly presented in the claim.

5. Claims 2-8 depend from rejected claim 1, and include all of the limitations thereof. Therefore, these claims are rejected.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

Art Unit: 3676

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fischer (U.S. Patent No. 4,630,983). Fischer discloses a peg (1-5), a component (12) and a support (11). The peg (1-5) comprises an anterior portion (5) that is introduced, with clearance, into a sleeve (13) of the component (12). A posterior fixing part (between 1 and 5, in figure 1) is inserted in the sleeve without clearance.

8. With respect to claims 2-4, Fischer discloses the diameter of the posterior fixing part to be greater than the diameter of the sleeve, and the peg includes a slot (3). The peg has lateral flats (on 8) and the posterior fixing portion has a cylindrical part.

9. With respect to claims 5 and 6, Fischer discloses the posterior fixing portion has a part that is inserted with clearance (where 1 meets the portion having the slot 3). That part is frustoconical and situated behind the cylindrical part. Examiner considers both the portions to the left and the right of the frustoconical part to be cylindrical portions.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

10. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3676

11. Claims 7 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fischer in view of King, Jr. ("King", U.S. Patent No. 3,962,775). Fischer fails to disclose the peg to be coated with a graphite deposit.

12. King teaches the use of graphite on an expansion, in a sleeve, such as graphite, as a lubricant (column 12, lines 4-15). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify Fischer, such that a graphite deposit is included on the peg, to lubricate the peg. The peg of Fischer fixes a component (12), or inertial unit, to support (11), or rack.

Response to Arguments

13. Examiner appreciates applicant's response to the questions raised in the previous Office Action. Claim 1 remains rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, because while applicant has defined the limitation "compensating for clearance" in the response filed on August 11, 2004, this language is still considered to be unclear, as explained above in paragraph 4.

Conclusion

14. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

15. A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

16. The following are suggested formats for either a Certificate of Mailing or Certificate of Transmission under 37 CFR 1.8(a). The certification may be included with all correspondence concerning this application or proceeding to establish a date of mailing or transmission under 37 CFR 1.8(a). Proper use of this procedure will result in such communication being considered as timely if the established date is within the required period for reply. The Certificate should be signed by the individual actually depositing or transmitting the correspondence or by an individual who, upon information and belief, expects the correspondence to be mailed or transmitted in the normal course of business by another no later than the date indicated.
